THE LATEST NEWS AND UPDATE FROM KORITA AVIATION

Korita to exhibit at 3 shows in 2010 including IFCA Cologne, Aircraft interiors in Hamburg and Long beach California

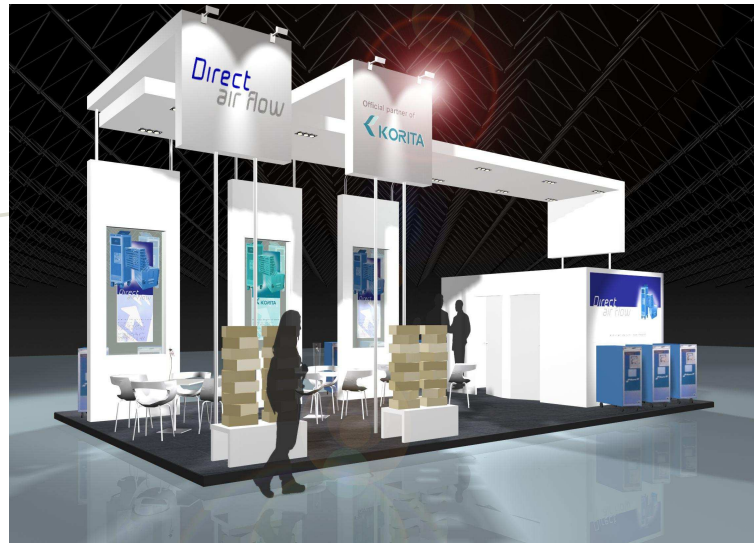

Following the huge success of last years exhibition Korita Aviation and Direct Airflow will return for both the IFCA Cologne and the Aircraft interior show in Hamburg in 2010 as well as the Aircraft interiors in Long beach California later in the year.

All 3 shows will give us the opportunity of showcasing the full range of Korita's trolley and galley equipment.

Direct Airflow will exhibit its range of associated products for the cabin interior including cooling systems, drawers and galley equipment all available for immediate delivery from its Netherlands based facility in Europe

Consider the reduced weight option

As a new manufacturer of galley equipment our aim is to supply a range of high quality equipment combined with innovative and simple design that allows for the need for reduced weight yet still meets the demands of today's modern airlines and catering units.

By redesigning the trolley to reduce weight yet retaining traditional build quality materials we have been able to produce a lighter trolley at pricing levels more acceptable for airlines to realistically consider replacing older heavier equipment to become more fuel efficient.
